

Stainless steel underneath the seats

The steel underneath the seats in a stadium can be hard to reach. Corrosion can be a problem in this case. It is therefore wise to make the scaffolding underneath in stainless steel. If you choose the correct grade, it will ensure ongoing visitor safety and be maintenance free.

